V. JURISDICTIONAL BASIS FOR THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING

10. This dispute is properly within the scope of the Policy and the Administrative Panel has jurisdiction to decide the dispute because the Registrar is ICANN-accredited and/or the registration agreement pursuant to which the Infringing Domain(s) are registered incorporates the Policy. True and correct printouts of the relevant registration agreement are attached as Exhibit C.

11. Respondent is required to submit to a mandatory administrative proceeding under Paragraph 4(a) of the Policy because: (a) the infringing Domain is confusingly similar to Complainant’s famous TRUMP® trademarks; (b) Respondent cannot establish any right or legitimate interest in the infringing Domain; and (c) the infringing Domain has been registered and is being used in bad faith.

VI. FACTS GIVING RISE TO THIS ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING

A. The Valuable TRUMP® Name and Brand

12. Donald J. Trump is one of the world’s most well-known businessmen, real estate developers, hoteliers, authors and television personalities in the world.

13. His portfolio includes residential real estate, commercial real estate, golf courses, casinos, hotels, and other properties, spread across the United States and around the world. Among the iconic properties owned, operated or affiliated with Mr. Trump are Trump Tower on Fifth Avenue, The Trump Building at 40 Wall Street, Trump World Tower at United Nations Plaza, Trump Park Avenue at 59th Street and Park Avenue, Trump Parc and Trump Parc East at Central Park South, Trump Place on the Hudson River, and Trump Palace. See Exhibit D.

14. After emerging as the preeminent force in New York's residential real estate market, Mr. Trump turned his attention toward the hotel industry, creating the Trump Hotel Collection and forging ahead with the development, branding, and management of some of the finest, award-winning hotels in the world, in prime locations such as New York City (Central Park West and Soho), Chicago, Las Vegas, Miami, Hawaii, Toronto, Panama, and others. A corresponding website <http://www.trumphotelcollection.com/> and proof of its current registration and ownership by Complainant could be found in Exhibit E.

15. Eventually, Mr. Trump entered the world of international real estate licensing, associating his name with residential projects in prime locations such as Turkey (Istanbul), the Dominican Republic (Cap Cana), India (Pune), Uruguay (Punta Del Este), Philippines (Makati), and others. See Exhibit F.

16. Simultaneously, Mr. Trump also pursued his passion for golf, developing, acquiring and/or managing world-class golf courses and clubs in New York (Westchester, Hudson Valley and Ferry Point), New Jersey (Bedminster and Colts Neck), Florida (Miami, Palm Beach, Jupiter and Doral), Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, North Carolina, Los Angeles, and Puerto Rico and, internationally, in Ireland, Scotland, and Dubai. In 2014, Mr. Trump acquired the legendary Turnberry golf resort and hotel in Scotland, which has been the site of four British Opens. See Exhibit G.

17. Trump is also an accomplished writer, having authored several best-selling books, such as Trump, the Art of the Deal, one of the best-selling books of all time, The Art of the Comeback, The America We Deserve, How To Get Rich, Think Like a Billionaire, Trump 101, Why We Want You To Be Rich, Think Big, Never Give Up and Think Like A Champion, which are sold the world over, having been translated into Chinese, Arabic and many other languages. See Exhibit H.

18. Mr. Trump is also part owner of the Miss Universe Organization which conducts the Miss Universe, Miss USA, and Miss Teen USA pageants. These pageants have been broadcast in markets around the world, including in the U.A.E., India and China. See Exhibit I.

19. Mr. Trump is also the star and executive producer of the hit NBC television shows The Apprentice and The Celebrity Apprentice, which is currently in its 14th season, appears in more than 82 countries, and is widely regarded as among the most successful television shows of all time. See Exhibit J.

20. Additional information regarding Mr. Trump's holdings and business interests can be found on his website, www.trump.com. True and correct printouts of the homepages for each of the above listed websites and the registration records for those domain names are attached as Exhibit K.

B. The TRUMP® Trademarks

21. Through the widespread, extensive use of the TRUMP® trademark in connection with his various businesses and the expenditure of large sums in promoting the TRUMP® brand on television, in print advertisements, on the Internet and in other media, Mr. Trump's TRUMP® trademark has become uniquely associated with Mr. Trump and his goods and services, and has attained considerable fame and widespread acclaim in the United States and throughout the world. As a result, the TRUMP® trademarks represent enormous goodwill.

22. As a result of their substantial value, for over 30 years, Mr. Trump has zealously protected and expanded his trademark portfolio, accumulating over 700 trademarks consisting of various derivations of the TRUMP® name in more than 80 countries around the world. Indeed, the TRUMP® name is so recognized that it (U.S. Trademark Registration No.

3,526,411; 2,240,310 and 3,391,095) was recently declared “incontestable” by U.S.

Trademark Office in classes 36, 37, 41, and 42. It is additionally registered in the U.S. in the following classes:

23. Separately, Mr. Trump has also obtained numerous trademark registrations throughout the world in connection with his primary business, namely, the development, branding and management of condominiums, hotels and other real estate related goods and services. True and correct printouts from the USPTO's website evidencing Mr. Trump's U.S. registrations are attached as Exhibit L. Trump and correct printouts illustrating a representative sample of Mr. Trump's international trademark registrations is attached as Exhibit M.

24. Not surprisingly, Mr. Trump's exclusive rights in the TRUMP® trademark has been recognized in several WIPO decisions ordered the transfer of infringing domain names to Mr. Trump. See, e.g., Donald J. Trump v. Mediaking LLC d/b/a Mediaking Corporation and Aaftek Domain Corp., WIPO Case No. D2010-1404 (ordering the transfer of trumpllasvegas.com and stating that "Complainant had rights in the TRUMP trademark long before it announced plans to construct the Trump International Hotel Las Vegas, and Complainant was already well-known for the operation of hotels and casinos before its specific plans with respect to that hotel were announced."); Donald J. Trump v. Maciel, WIPO Case No. D2005-0918 (holding that "[t]he distinctive quality of the TRUMP mark, as evidenced by registration and use, is beyond question."); Donald J. Trump v. Fountainhead Entertainment LLC, WIPO Case No. D2004-0429 ("[g]iven the fame of the TRUMP mark... such individuals are likely to be confused as to the source or sponsorship of the site"); Donald J. Trump v. Sandra Long Consulting, WIPO Case No. D2007-1226 ("through Complainant's longstanding use of the TRUMP mark in domain names and web addresses the public has come to expect that domain names incorporating the mark be the Complainant."); Donald J. Trump v. Web-Adviso, WIPO Case No. D2010-2220 ("Complainant is one of the most recognizable individuals in the world, and his TRUMP marks enjoy international recognition").

C. Respondent's Improper Registration and Use of the Infringing Domain

25. Despite Mr. Trump's well established rights in the TRUMP® trademarks -- particularly in the real estate industry -- on or about March 8, 2010, Respondent registered the Domain, "TRUMPESTATES.COM" -- a clear reference to Mr. Trump's extensive involvement in real estate -- for the purpose of selling it on the open market. Not surprisingly, to date, Respondent has not made any legitimate use of the Domain.

26. Indeed, as shown in Exhibit N, Respondent is what is known as a "domainer" or "cyber squatter" who is in the business of buying and reselling domains without any legitimate use whatsoever. Far from hiding his intentions, Respondent's websites, www.trumpestates.com and www.scottnot.com, offer over 50 different domains, including the Domain, "TRUMPESTATES.COM", "for sale, rent, trade or partner" as well as a section in which Respondent invites users to "Make Offer" or "Submit Offer Here". See Exhibit O. Indeed, Respondent is such an experienced domainer that he even has sections on his website, www.scottnot.com, devoted to the purchase and sale of domains, like "How to Buy a Domain or Website", "How to Sell a Domain or Website" and even "Why List Your Domain at Scottnot.com". See Exhibits P and Q.

27. In fact, for those interested in purchasing trademarked domains, Respondent even has a section called "Can I Buy and Use a Domain Name That is a Trademark of Someone Else?" As Respondent explains:

"It very much depends on the specifics. For example, if Compaq bought apple.com, legal precedent indicates that the court would likely require Compaq to release apple.com to Apple Computers. If, however, an apple farmer bought apple.com to see fruit over the Internet, Apple Computer would likely have less of a claim. We highly recommend that you read Interneic's policy on domain name ownership." See Exhibit Q.

28. Here, however, it appears that Respondent didn't even bother to take his own advice. As a result, on February 25, 2015, Complainant was left with no choice but to send Respondent a cease and desist letter demanding that he discontinue any further use of Mr. Trump's trademarks and transfer ownership of the Domain to Mr. Trump. See Exhibit R.

29. In response, on or about February 25, 2015, Respondent called the undersigned counsel to say that he was willing to transfer the Domain to Mr. Trump, but only if Mr. Trump agreed to provide certain financial and other considerations. For example, among other items, Respondent stated that he would voluntarily transfer the Domain to Mr. Trump if Mr. Trump agreed to make him a judge or contestant on the television show the "Apprentice".

30. After the undersigned rejected Respondent's demands, Respondent promised that he would get back to Complainant right away to see if we could still resolve our differences. But, instead of calling back, Respondent called the New York Post to leak the story. On March 1, 2015, Respondent got his wish when an article entitled "Donald Trump Fighting for Domain Name of Future Development" appeared in the newspaper's real estate section. See Exhibit S.

VII. GROUNDS FOR THIS ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDING

A. The Infringing Domain is Confusingly Similar to Mr. Trump's Marks

31. Simply stated, the Domain is confusingly similar to Mr. Trump's TRUMP® trademarks because it consists of the Complainant's registered trademark followed by the word "estates". The inclusion of the word "estates", however, which the Merriam-Webster's Dictionary defines as a "large piece of land with a large house on it", does nothing to distinguish the Domains from Complainant's registered marks. Indeed, if anything, it makes the confusion worse – particularly given the fact that Mr. Trump is most known throughout the world for his real estate exploits. See Volvo Trademark Holding AB v. Uvelov, WIPO Case No. D2002-0521 (including a generic term with a famous mark aggravates rather than diminishes the likelihood of confusion); Bayerische Motoren Werke AG v. bmwcar.com, WIPO Case No. D2002-0615 (domain name that wholly incorporates registered trademark establishes confusing similarity); Quixtar Investments, Inc. v. Dennis Hoffman, WIPO Case No. D2000-0253 (domain name with addition of generic term found legally identical to complainant's mark).

32. As the panel explained in Vitamin Shoppe Industries, Inc. v. Kosher Vitamin Express, FA12100001466844:

The test of confusing similarity under the Policy is confined to a comparison of the Domain Name and the trademark alone. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Traffic Yoon, D2006 0812 (WIPO Sept. 20, 2006). The top level domain “.com” is to be disregarded because top-level domains are a required element of every domain name: Gardline Surveys Ltd. v. Domain Fin. Ltd., FA 153545 (Nat. Arb. Forum May 27, 2003).

Confusion in this context, in the sense of bewilderment or failing to distinguish between things, may be regarded as a state of wondering whether there is an association, rather than a state of erroneously believing that there is one. An appropriate formulation might be: “Is it likely that, because of the similarity between the domain name on the one hand and the Complainant's trademark on the other hand, people will wonder whether the domain name is associated in some way with the Complainant?”: SANOFI-AVENTIS v. Jason Trevenio, D2007 0648 (WIPO July 11, 2007).

33. As a result, given the reputation and renown of Mr. Trump's TRUMP® mark, most Internet users, when seeing the infringing Domain, are likely to immediately recognize Mr. Trump's mark, and assume that the infringing Domain and the websites associated with them are owned, controlled or approved by Mr. Trump or his affiliated companies – no different than Mr. Trump's numerous legitimate websites, many of which, like www.trumpinternationalrealty.com and www.trumpnationalestates.com, have similar if not nearly identical sounding names. In addition, consumers and other third parties who search the Internet for legitimate information on Mr. Trump or about the businesses he owns and controls may be directed to the Internet addresses incorporating the infringing Domain, creating a high probability of confusion. See GA Modelfine S.A. v. O'Flynn, WIPO Case No. D2000-1424; see also Volvo Trademark Holding, WIPO Case No. D2002-0521. Upon being redirected to Respondent's website from the Domain Names, consumers would have reasonably believed that they are either Complainant's websites or are somehow related to or approved by Complainant, when that is not the case. See, e.g., Chinmoy Kumar Ghose v. ICDSOFT.com & Maria Sliwa, WIPO Case No. D2003-0248 ("it could never be a legitimate or fair use to select a domain name which is confusingly similar to another person's trade or service mark, with a view to misleadingly attracting visitors to a website linked to that domain name"); Ciccone v. Parisi, WIPO Case No. D2000-0847 ("[u]se which intentionally trades on the fame of another cannot constitute a 'bona fide' offering of goods or services").

B. Respondent Has No Legitimate Interest in the Infringing Domain

34. Nor can Respondent demonstrate any legitimate interest in the infringing Domain for several reasons. First, as discussed above, there is no actual bona fide use of the Domain. Instead, the Domain is simply being used to direct consumers to a website where Respondent advertises the Domain together with more than 50 other domains for sale. Moreover, as clearly shown by Exhibit O, there has been no actual use of the domain for the last five years. Second, as discussed above, both the registration and use of the Domain violate Mr. Trump's well established TRUMP® trademarks. Third, as evidenced by his websites, the only reason Respondent appears to have registered the Domain in the first place was to sell it back to Complainant or somebody else at a sizeable profit. Indeed, as shown above, Respondent is in the business of buying and selling domains for a profit.

35. Since Mr. Trump's adoption and extensive use of the TRUMP® mark predates Respondent's registration of the infringing Domain, the burden is on Respondent to establish his rights or legitimate interests in the Domain. See PepsiCo, Inc. v. Amilcar Perez Lista d/b/a Cybersor, WIPO Case No. D2003-0174. Here, however, registration of the Domains occurred well after Mr. Trump had made extensive use and obtained numerous registrations for his TRUMP® mark. Given these facts, Respondent clearly was on notice of Mr. Trump's rights before he registered Mr. Trump's trademarks in the form of the Domain. See generally Chanel, Inc. v. Buybeauty.com, WIPO Case No. D2000-1126 (given fame and substantial use, “no actual or contemplated bona fide or legitimate use of the Domain could be claimed by Respondent.”).

36. With Mr. Trump having now made a prima facie showing that Respondent possesses no legitimate rights or interests in the Domain, the evidentiary burden shifts to Respondent to show, through plausible, concrete evidence, that the Respondent does have a right or a legitimate interest in the Domain.” Id. For the reasons stated above, Respondent cannot meet this burden.

C. Respondent Registered and Is Using the Domain in Bad Faith

37. Here, Respondent unquestionably registered the Domain in bad faith. As detailed above, Mr. Trump is one of the most recognizable individuals in the world and his TRUMP® marks enjoy international recognition, particularly in the area of luxury real estate. As a result, it is simply therefore inconceivable that Respondent was unaware of the existence of Mr. Trump’s trademarks and his affiliation with luxury real estate when he registered the infringing Domain. Heineken Brouwerijen B.V. v. Mark Lott, WIPO Case No. D2000-1487, at § 6(3) (finding bad faith where complainant’s international fame precludes innocent registration of a confusingly similar domain name).

38. In fact, there is ample evidence to show that Respondent was well aware of Mr. Trump’s established trademark rights. For example, clearly aware of Mr. Trump’s notoriety, for years, Respondent has been trying to sell the Domain, TRUMPESTATES.COM, on eBay for upwards of $21 million, advertising that this “highly sought out domain name once owned by Donald Trump can now be yours.” See Exhibit T. Similarly, on April 11, 2013, Respondent, in another attempt to sell the Domain to the public, posted on his website “Donald Trump doesn’t want this site, SO BID NOW!!!” See Exhibit N. More recently, after Respondent received Complainant’s cease and desist letter, his first reaction was not to try and refute the allegations, but demand in return that he be allowed to appear on Mr. Trump's television show, the "Apprentice". His second reaction was to call the New York Post in hopes of getting his name in the paper. Given the foregoing, the evidence supporting Respondent's bad faith registration is overwhelming.

39. But not only did Respondent register the Domain in bad faith, he is also clearly using the Domain in bad faith. In fact, other than redirecting users to his websites, www.trumpestates.com and www.scottnot.com, where he offers various domains – including the Domain TRUMPESTATES.COM for either sale or rent -- Respondent is not using the Domain for any purpose whatsoever. Pursuant to Paragraph 4(b) of the Policy, this is per se evidence of Respondent's bad faith use of the Domain. See Policy, ¶4 (b) (evidence of bad faith use exists where "the registrant has registered or acquired the domain name primarily for the purpose of selling, renting, or otherwise transferring the domain name registration to the complainant who is the owner of the trademark or service mark or to a competitor of that complainant, for valuable consideration in excess of its documented out-of-pocket costs directly related to the domain name"). In view of the foregoing, Mr. Trump has met the requirements of the Policy.

VIII. REMEDIES REQUESTED

40. Based on the foregoing, here, Mr. Trump has clearly established that (i) the infringing Domain, TRUMPESTATES.COM, is identical or confusingly similar to Mr. Trump's well-established TRUMP® trademarks, (ii) Respondent has no legitimate right or interest in the infringing Domain, and (iii) Respondent registered and is using the infringing Domain in bad faith.

41. Accordingly, we respectfully request that the infringing Domain immediately be transferred to Mr. Trump.

IX. MUTUAL JURISDICTION

42. In accordance with Paragraph 3(b)(xiii) of the Rules for Uniform Domain Dispute Resolution Policy, Mr. Trump agrees, with respect to any challenge that may be made by Respondent to a decision by the Administrative Panel to transfer the infringing Domain, to the jurisdiction of the courts of New York, where the Registrant is located.

X. OTHER LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

43. Mr. Trump has not commenced, engaged or terminated any other legal proceedings concerning the infringing Domain.

XI. COMMUNICATIONS

44. Copies of this Complaint and cover sheet prescribed by the Supplemental Rules were sent to Respondent on March 18, 2015, via email to ie@ebaynot.com

45. On March 18, 2015, a copy of this Complaint was also sent to the Registrar via email (addressed to support@misk.com).

XII. CERTIFICATION

46. Complainant agrees that its claims and remedies concerning the registration of the infringing Domain, the dispute, or the dispute's resolution shall be solely against the domain-name holder and waives all such claims and remedies against (a) the dispute-resolution provider and panelists, except in the case of deliberate wrongdoing, (b) the Registrar, (c) the registry administrator and (d) the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers, as well as their directors, officers, employees and agents.

47. Complainant certifies that the information contained in this Complaint is to the best of Complainant's knowledge complete and accurate, that this Complaint is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass, and that the assertions in this Complaint are warranted under the Rules for Uniform Domain Dispute Resolution Policy and under applicable law, as it now exists or as it may be extended by a good-faith and reasonable argument.

Terms of Service (TOS)

Last Updated on: February 6, 2015

This Terms of Service (TOS) is a contract that sets out the rights and responsibilities of Misk.com, Inc. (Misk, we, us or our) and the users of the Products (as that term is defined in this TOS) provided by Misk (Customer, you or your). This TOS applies to you whether you purchased the Products directly from Misk, or from one of our customers. Even though this TOS is not physically signed, we each agree to be bound by it. This TOS incorporates other agreements between Misk and you, such as our Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) and Privacy Policy. These other agreements, along with this TOS, are collectively referred to as the "Agreements." These Agreements, may be modified from time-to-time without notice to you. You agree to be bound by these modifications. The most recent version of this TOS can always be found on our website.

Misk provides Products to you either directly, or in conjunction with other businesses. These businesses may have contracts that differ from this TOS. We will provide you with links to these contracts on request. Some of Misk's Products allow you to use services provided by other businesses. It is important to know that the Agreements apply even if your use of the Products is simply to facilitate a use of a third party product.

If you purchase Products from Misk and are not the final user, it is your obligation to ensure that ultimate end user of the Products, and all other intermediate users (collectively "End User(s)"), comply with the Agreements. You acknowledge, that for domain name purchases, Misk's acceptance of any domain name registration application will take place at the offices set out in its registrar agreement: Fishkill, New York, USA.

Section A

1. Products

1.1 The term "Product" or "Products" refers to the services, software and other items provided to you by Misk. The specific features of the Products are set out on our website (Product Description). You may purchase more than one Product from Misk. Each Product is covered by this TOS and all of our other Agreements. This TOS may have additional terms that apply only to specific Products.

1.2 This section of the TOS applies to all Products. You may be bound by additional sections incorporated in Sections B and C. Please review the entire TOS to ensure that you understand the full extent of your obligations.

1.3 The features, prices and other aspects of the Products you purchase from Misk will be provided to you in the form and manner set out in the Product Description as it is set out on Misk's website on the Effective Date. Misk continually evaluates the features, prices and other aspects of the Products. From time-to-time, Misk may make changes in these features and prices, and is under no obligation to offer these new features and prices to you. The prices set out on our website are valid as of the Effective Date. The prices of the Products provided by Misk or third parties are not guaranteed. Those prices may change after the Effective Date.

1.4 If certain features of a Product are provided by a third party, that third party may have reserved the right to make changes to its services. We will use reasonable efforts to inform you of these changes.

2. Accurate Information

2.1 The information you provide to us must be accurate and current. It is your obligation to update this information if it changes. This information is required to provide the Products to you. We have no liability if we are unable to provide the Products to you because you have not provided us with accurate information. We have no responsibility for communications that are misdirected as a result of your failure to provide us with updated contact information. You are required to respond within 7 business days of our request for additional information from you, or for a request to validate your information. If we believe you have provided us with false, misleading or inaccurate information, we may terminate this TOS without notice, penalty, or other obligation to you.

2.2 On occasion, we may need to communicate with you by email about issues related to billing, service changes, additions and modifications to the Products. It is your responsibility to provide a working, monitored, email address to us.

3. Effective Date

We each become bound by this TOS when you submit an order for a Product (Effective Date). We are under no obligation to provide a Product to you until your order is approved by us.

4. Term

This Agreement will begin on the Effective Date and continue for the term set out on the Product Description Page (Initial Term). After the expiration of the Initial Term, the Agreement will renew for successive periods of equal length (Renewal Term) (collectively the "Term"). If the Product Description Page does not contain an Initial Term, the Initial Term shall be one month. If you terminate this TOS, or a particular Product prior to the expiration of a Term, you will not receive a refund of Fees paid.

5. Cancellation

5.1 All sales are final. You will not receive a refund for any cancellation.

5.2 Misk offers auto-renewal of certain products. Auto-renewal extends the term of the Product automatically. The auto-renewal feature may be cancelled on any Product through your control panel or in writing by email. You must give us 30 days notice or notice stated on the Product Description Page. A cancellation notice received outside of this time frame, will be processed, and effective, for subsequent Renewal Terms. When you request cancellation of auto-renewal, the Product will be canceled on the last day of the Initial or Renewal Term.

6. Termination

6.1 We reserve the right to immediately terminate this TOS, and suspend or cancel your Products: (i) for a violation of any provision of this TOS or any other Agreement, including third party agreements that apply to you through this TOS; and/or (ii) your failure to pay any amounts due. This right of termination or suspension is without prejudice to any other rights we may have. You are not entitled to any type of notice or protest should we exercise these rights. You will not receive a refund if the Products are terminated or suspended.

6.2 One party may also terminate this TOS upon the occurrence of a material breach which has not been cured by the other party within 30 calendar days of their receipt of written notice of the breach. Notices of material breach must contain sufficient detail for the party against whom the assertion of material breach is directed, to identify the breach and attempt to take corrective action.

6.3 Upon termination, your account will be closed and the Products terminated. We have no responsibility to forward email, or other communications, once your account is closed. You are encouraged to keep the Products active during a transition period should you seek to forward your email or other communications.

6.4 Following termination, you may be offered a grace period during which the Products may be reinstated. However, we are under no obligation to offer such a grace period to you, and we are under no obligation to continue to offer such a grace period if we have done so in the past.

7. Payment

7.1 The fees and charges for the Product are set out on the Product Description Page (Fees). The Product Description Page may also contain a date on which the Fees are due (Due Date). Fees begin to accrue on the Effective Date.

7.2 Our obligation to provide the Products is contingent on your payment of the Fees by the Due Date. You must pay the Fees without set off or deduction. It is your responsibility to ensure that we receive payment of the Fees and that the information necessary for us to collect the Fees is current. Entering into this TOS signifies your acceptance of our initial and continuing credit approval and fraud avoidance procedures and policies. We reserve the right to withhold initiation or full implementation of the Products until we are satisfied with our initial credit and fraud review.

7.3 If the Fees are not received when due, your account will be considered delinquent. At that time our system will automatically place your account on hold. Putting an account on hold renders your account and the Products unusable. To reinstate your account, we may charge you: (i) a returned check fee in the amount of $50; (ii) interest in the amount of 2.0% per month, or the maximum amount allowed by law; (iii) collection charges; (iv) any fees levied on us by our financial institution; and/or (v) a reinstatement fee of $50. During the period in which your account is delinquent, we reserve the right to terminate this TOS and the Products. If you purchase a domain name from, or through us, if allowed by the registry authority, we may take possession of the domain name during the period your account is suspended. You have 30 days to resolve any billing disputes at which point the Product (including domain names) will be terminated or transferred to our name. In the case of a billing dispute involving a domain name, restoring the domain name to you will be our sole and exclusive obligation to you and your sole and exclusive remedy. If you present a dispute to your credit card issuer alleging that you are not obligated to pay for a Product, and we prevail in that dispute, you will be charged a $50 investigation fee.

7.4 You may choose to purchase certain products that are provided by other parties through Misk (Third Party Products). Fees for the Third Party Products may not appear on Misk's invoices in the month on which they are delivered. You agree to pay for these Third Party Products regardless of the length of time elapsed between their delivery date, and the date on which you are charged.

8. Email Services, SPAM Filtering and Virus Scanning

8.1 We may use software and other techniques to protect our company from viruses, SPAM and other items that we, in our sole and exclusive judgment, believe may harm our business. However we are not responsible for any harm caused to you by these devices.

8.2 We are not responsible for the failure to process email that we have labeled as SPAM or as otherwise harmful to our network. We are also not responsible for delivery failures caused by the operation of a third party recipient's SPAM filtering software. It is your responsibility to review your "spam" folder from time-to-time. Email labeled as SPAM will only be available to you for a short period of time.

8.3 Email accounts are not designed to function as permanent storage. We assume no responsibility for email files that are damaged or inadvertently deleted.

9. Network Security

In some cases, it may be necessary for us to restrict your access to the Products, or temporarily disable the Products altogether to protect our network and service to other customers. Actions we take to protect our network shall be considered Force Majeure events to the extent they impact your ability to use the Products.

10. Account Security

10.1 We make tools available to you that are designed to make your use of the Internet more secure. These tools are provided on an AS-IS basis and are used at your own risk. You are encouraged to evaluate other methods of making your Internet transactions more secure.

10.2 When your Products are set up, you will receive a username, password and other information related to your account. It is very important that you protect this information from unauthorized disclosure. It is your obligation to notify us if you have lost any of this information, or you believe there is unauthorized use of the Products. We can not be responsible for any damages, extra charges or any other harm that occurs as a result of lost, stolen, or misplaced information of this sort.

10.3 The Internet is no more or less secure than any other method of communication. You are solely responsible for ensuring that your data is secure, that confidential information remains confidential, and that you do not expose your business to risks you are not prepared to assume. We reserve the right to take immediate action to suspend or terminate your account if, in our sole and exclusive discretion, you or an End User are engaging in activities that jeopardize our security, the security of other customers, or of the Internet in general. You may not be provided with advance notice that we are taking such action.

11. Licenses and Intellectual Property

11.1 Misk grants to you a non-exclusive, non-transferable, worldwide, royalty free license to use technology provided by Misk solely to access and use the Products. This license terminates on the expiration or termination of this TOS. Except for the license rights set out above, this license does not grant any additional rights to you. All right, title and interest in Misk's technology shall remain with Misk or Misk's licensors. You are not permitted to circumvent any devices designed to protect Misk's, or its licensor's, ownership interests in the technology provided to you. In addition, you may not reverse engineer this technology.

11.2 Information you provide to us, and our responses, related to technical support, implementation, operation or administration of the Products is not confidential. We may use this information, as well as aggregate information gleaned from the operation of our business in general, to improve, or create new products. We shall be the exclusive owners of this intellectual property. You waive any rights you may in this intellectual property, and assign all right, title and interest in it to us.

11.3 You grant Misk, and any third parties used by Misk to provide the Products, a non-exclusive, non-transferable, worldwide, royalty free license to use, disseminate, transmit and cache content, technology and information provided by you and, if applicable, End Users, in conjunction with the Products. This license terminates on the expiration or termination of this TOS. All right, title and interest in your technology shall remain with you or your licensors.

12. Your Representations and Warranty

You represent and warrant to Misk that: (i) you have the experience and knowledge necessary to use the Products; (ii) you understand and appreciate the risks inherent to you, your business and your person, that come from accessing the Internet; (iii) you will provide us with material that may be implemented by us to provide the Products without extra effort on our part; (iv) you have sufficient knowledge about administering, designing and operating the functions facilitated by the Products to take advantage of the Products; and/or (v) that you own outright, or have a license to use, all items necessary for us to make the Products available to you, including, but not limited to, your domain name, if applicable.

13. Disclaimers

13.1 ALL PRODUCTS ARE PROVIDED ON AN AS-IS AND AS-AVAILABLE BASIS. OTHER THAN AS EXPRESSLY SET OUT HEREIN, MISK HAS NOT, AND DOES NOT, MAKE ANY WARRANTIES WHETHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED. THIS DISCLAIMER INCLUDES, BUT IS NOT LIMITED TO, WARRANTIES OF NON-INFRINGEMENT, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, FRAUD, MERCHANTABILITY, AND/OR TITLE. MISK DOES NOT WARRANT THAT THE PRODUCTS WILL BE UNINTERRUPTED, ERROR OR FAILURE FREE, SECURE OR FREE FROM VIRUSES OR OTHER HARMFUL COMPONENTS. MISK IS NOT LIABLE, AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS ANY LIABILITY, FOR THE CONTENT OF ANY DATA TRANSFERRED EITHER TO, OR FROM, YOU OR STORED BY YOU OR END USERS VIA THE PRODUCTS PROVIDED BY MISK. MISK SPECIFICALLY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL WARRANTIES REGARDING PRODUCTS PROVIDED BY THIRD PARTIES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THOSE PRODUCTS APPEAR TO BE PROVIDED BY MISK. MISK ALSO SPECIFICALLY DISCLAIMS ANY RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FAILURE OF THIRD PARTIES TO ACTUALLY REGISTER OR PROPAGATE DOMAIN NAMES, EITHER IN WHOLE, OR ON A TIMELY BASIS. NO WARRANTIES MADE BY THESE THIRD PARTY ENTITIES TO MISK SHALL BE PASSED THROUGH TO YOU, NOR SHALL YOU CLAIM TO BE A THIRD PARTY BENEFICIARY OF SUCH WARRANTIES.

13.2 THIS WARRANTY DISCLAIMER EXTENDS TO ANY ORAL OR WRITTEN INFORMATION YOU MAY HAVE RECEIVED FROM MISK, ITS EMPLOYEES, THIRD-PARTY VENDORS, AGENTS OR AFFILIATES. YOU MAY NOT RELY ON SUCH INFORMATION.

13.3 SOME STATES DO NOT ALLOW MISK TO EXCLUDE CERTAIN WARRANTIES. IF THIS APPLIES TO YOU, YOUR WARRANTY IS LIMITED TO 90 DAYS FROM THE EFFECTIVE DATE.

14. Limitation of Liability

14.1 The Internet is essentially unregulated. No tool, software, device or procedure is totally effective in eliminating risks inherent in connecting to the Internet. It is your responsibility to weigh the risks to your business that are created when you connect to the Internet. Misk does not control your content, nor the content accessed by you, or End Users, through, or via, Misk. It is your obligation to ensure the accuracy, integrity, title or ownership, and security of anything you receive from the Internet. You agree that Misk has no liability, of any sort, for content you or End Users access from the Internet.

14.2 Misk provides no guarantee that the Products will be uninterrupted, or continuous, that you will be able to access the Products at a particular time, that any data transmitted by Misk is accurate, error free, virus free, secure, or inoffensive. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to keep back-up copies of your data independently of us. Misk is not responsible for any loss of data, for any reason. Misk is not liable for unauthorized access to, or any corruption, erasure, theft, destruction, alteration or inadvertent disclosure of, data, information or content, transmitted, received, or stored on its system.

14.3 It is your responsibility to determine that the Products and any equipment provided by us, or third party vendors, is compatible with your equipment. You are strongly advised to back-up your computer prior to installing any equipment or using the Products. We are not responsible for any damages you sustain that occur because of incompatible, improperly configured equipment or that otherwise causes harm to you.

14.4 IN NO EVENT WILL MISK'S LIABILITY HEREUNDER EXCEED THE AGGREGATE FEES ACTUALLY RECEIVED BY MISK FROM YOU FOR THE 12 MONTH PERIOD IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING THE EVENT GIVING RISE TO SUCH LIABILITY. FOR THE PURPOSES OF THIS PARAGRAPH ONLY, THE TERM MISK SHALL BE INTERPRETED TO INCLUDE MISK'S EMPLOYEE'S, AGENTS, OWNERS, DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, AFFILIATES, AND THIRD PARTIES PROVIDING PRODUCTS TO YOU THROUGH MISK.

14.5 YOU AGREE THAT, TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, YOU WILL NOT UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, NEGLIGENCE, HOLD MISK OR ITS LICENSORS, AGENTS, EMPLOYEES, OFFICERS AND/OR THIRD PARTY VENDORS, LIABLE FOR ANY INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES WHATSOEVER INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF PROFITS, COST SAVINGS, REVENUE, BUSINESS, DATA OR USE, OR ANY OTHER PECUNIARY LOSS BY YOU, ANY OF YOUR END USERS OR ANY OTHER THIRD PARTY. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOREGOING LIMITATIONS APPLY WHETHER IN AN ACTION IN CONTRACT OR TORT OR ANY OTHER LEGAL THEORY AND APPLY EVEN IF MISK HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES. SOME JURISDICTIONS DO NOT ALLOW THE LIMITATION OR EXCLUSION OF LIABILITY FOR INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES; YOU AGREE THAT IN THOSE JURISDICTIONS MISK'S LIABILITY WILL BE LIMITED TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW.

15. Indemnification

15.1 You agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Misk and its parent, subsidiary and affiliated companies, third party service providers and each of their respective officers, directors, employees, shareholders and agents (each an "indemnified party" and, collectively, "indemnified parties") from and against any and all claims, damages, losses, liabilities, suits, actions, demands, proceedings (whether legal or administrative), and expenses (including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees) threatened, asserted, or filed by a third party against any of the indemnified parties arising out of or relating to: (i) your use of the Products; (ii) any violation by you of any of Misk's policies; (iii) any breach of any of your representations, warranties or covenants contained in the Agreements; and/or (iv) any acts or omissions by you. The terms of this paragraph shall survive any termination of the Agreements. For the purpose of this paragraph only, the terms used to designate you include you, End Users, visitors to your website, and users of your products or the Products, the use of which is facilitated by us.

15.2 Misk may, at its option, indemnify and hold you harmless from, and at its own expense agrees to defend, or at its option to settle, any claim, suit or proceeding brought or threatened against you so far as it is based on a claim that a Product actually provided by Misk hereunder infringes any U.S. patent or trademark. This indemnification provision is expressly limited to Products which are fully owned by Misk. It does not extend to Products provided by third parties directly or through us. If allowed in its agreements with third parties, Misk shall flow down similar intellectual property indemnification provisions to you. This paragraph will be conditioned on you notifying Misk promptly in writing of the claim and giving Misk full authority, information, and assistance for the defense and settlement thereof. You shall have the right to participate in the defense of the claim at your expense. If such claim has occurred, or in Misk's opinion is likely to occur, you agree to permit Misk, at its option and expense, either to: (i) procure for you the right to continue using the Product; (ii) replace with a Product, regardless of manufacturer, performing the same or similar function as the infringing Product, or modify the same so that it becomes non-infringing; or (iii) if neither of the foregoing alternatives is reasonably available, immediately terminate Misk's obligations (and your rights) under this Agreement with regard to such Product and/or refund the Fee for the affected Product actually received by Misk from you for the 12 month period immediately preceding the occurrence of the event on which the indemnification claim is based. This obligation to indemnify you shall be our only obligation, and your only remedy, should there be an allegation that a Product infringes a U.S. patent or trademark.

16. Notices

16.1 Notices will be sent to you at the address you provide to us. It is your obligation to ensure that we have the most current address for you.

Notices regarding this TOS and other Misk policies should be directed to:

Misk.com, Inc.
Attn: General Counsel
93 S Jackson St #33544
Seattle, WA 98104-2818

17. Force Majeure

Except for the obligation to pay monies due and owing, neither party shall be liable for any delay or failure in performance due to events outside the defaulting party's reasonable control, including without limitation acts of God, third party vendors, cable cuts or other interruptions in telecommunications services, suppliers or agents, earthquake, labor disputes, shortages of supplies, business failures or interruptions, riots, war, fire, epidemics, or delays of common carriers or other circumstances beyond its reasonable control. The obligations and rights of the excused party shall be extended on a day to day basis for the time period equal to the period of the excusable delay. The party affected by such an occurrence shall notify the other party as soon as possible, but in no event more than ten days from the beginning of the event.

18. Choice of Law, Jurisdiction and Venue

This Agreement is made under and shall be construed according to the laws of the State of New York. Venue and jurisdiction shall be proper before the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York in White Plains, New York (Court), and the Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute involving this Agreement. Should the Court not have jurisdiction or venue, the parties agree that all claims shall be brought before the courts of the State of New York located in White Plains, New York. The parties specifically disclaim the UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods.

19. No Waiver

No waiver of rights under this TOS shall constitute a subsequent waiver of this or any other right under this TOS.

20. Assignment

This TOS and applicable Agreements may be assigned by Misk. It may not be assigned by you. The TOS and applicable Agreements shall bind and inure to the benefit of the corporate successors and permitted assigns of the parties.

21. Severability

In the event that any of the terms of this TOS become or are declared to be illegal or otherwise unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such term(s) shall be null and void and shall be deemed deleted from this TOS. All remaining terms of this TOS shall remain in full force and effect.

22. Precedence

Your use of the Products is also governed by our AUP and Privacy Policy. In the event of inconsistencies between this TOS, the AUP, or the Privacy Policy, the AUP, Privacy Policy, then the TOS shall govern. This TOS contains three sections. In the event of a conflict between the sections, they shall have the following precedence: C, B then A. However, the warranties and indemnification provisions set out in the various Agreements (including the sections of the TOS) shall be construed together, and one provision shall not be in lieu of the other, unless expressly stated.

23. No Modification

This TOS is the entire agreement between us. We may revise, amend, or modify this TOS at any time. The Agreements may not be amended or modified by you except by a written document signed by both you and our authorized representative. This provision does not apply to changes mandated by the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) or any domain name registrar. You may not terminate this TOS or any Agreement for any reason based on such a change.

24. No Agency

This TOS does not create any agency, partnership, joint venture, or franchise relationship. Neither party has the right or authority to, and shall not, assume or create any obligation of any nature whatsoever on behalf of the other party or bind the other party in any respect whatsoever. We may subcontract any of our obligations under the TOS without notice or your consent.

25. Survival

The following paragraphs shall survive the termination or expiration of this TOS: Section A: 13, 14, 15, 16, 18, 22, 25; Section B: 7, 8; Section C: those paragraphs which must survive as set out in our agreement with the domain name registrar.

Section B

1. Domain Name Registrations

1.1 This section of our TOS applies to you if you purchase domain names from, or through, us. It is important to note that there are particular provisions that may apply to your domain extension that are set out in Section C. Please read Section C carefully. Unless another dispute resolution policy is set out in Section C, by purchasing a domain name from us, you agree to the ICANN domain name dispute policy, which may be found here: <http://www.icann.org/dndr/udrp/policy.htm>

1.2 Misk is an accredited domain name registrar with the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) under an agreement between Misk and ICANN (ICANN Agreement). Misk is also an accredited domain name registrar with other registries. Each of their policies are incorporated throughout our Agreements. You acknowledge that Misk may modify these Agreements if necessary to comply with the ICANN Agreement, or our agreements with any other registry, or as otherwise provided herein. Such a modification shall not be a material breach of this TOS, nor shall you be entitled to terminate this TOS, or any Agreements, based on such a change.

1.3 Misk is also a registration service provider for Tucows, Inc. (Tucows, <http://www.tucows.com>). Some of our domain name registrations will be processed through Tucows. Applications processed through Tucows are also bound by the terms of Tucows' Registration Agreement, available at <http://www.opensrs.com/docs/contracts/exhibita.htm>.

1.4 Your registration of a Domain Name shall be subject to suspension, cancellation, or transfer pursuant to any ICANN adopted specification or policy, or pursuant to any registrar or registry procedure not inconsistent with an ICANN adopted specification or policy, (1) to correct mistakes by us or the Registry Operator in registering the Domain Name or (2) for the resolution of disputes concerning the Domain Name.

1.5 Our domain name expiration policy is here: <https://www.misk.com/kb/domain-expiration-policy>

2. Pending Applications

When you provide information to us to register a domain name, the domain name is not immediately registered. You have presented us with an application to register a domain name (Registration Application). This Registration Application must be processed by us before it can be submitted for registration. There are a number of cases in which your Registration Application may be denied, or the domain name fail to be registered. Examples of these include, but are not limited to: your failure to meet our credit or fraud standards; your failure to meet the domain registry, or the third party we use to register your domain name's, standards; or registration of the domain name by another person during the period of time in which we are processing the Registration Application; and/or your failure to pay the Fees. We are not responsible to you in any way, for a failure to register a domain name.

3. Domain Transfers

For the first sixty days following your initial registration, renewal, or transfer, of a domain name with us, you agree that you may not transfer it to another domain name registrar. After that time, you may transfer your domain name, pursuant to our domain name transfer policy, available here: <http://www.icann.org/transfers/policy-12jul04.htm>, or in the applicable provision of Section C.

4. Domain Hold

In certain circumstances we may be required to put your domain on hold. We may put your domain on hold, and suspend resolution of your domain name to a website: if we are required to do so; it violates our AUP; or if based on our reasonable judgment, such a suspension is necessary. We may suspend your domain name even if we do not provide any dns, hosting, or e-mail services to you, but are only your domain registrar.

5. Information you provide to us

5.1 In your Registration Application, you must provide the following:

- 5.1.1 The name, postal address, e-mail address, voice telephone number, and (where available) fax number of the registrant (owner) of the domain name; and
- 5.1.2 The name, postal address, e-mail address, voice telephone number, and (where available) fax number of the administrative contact for the domain name (administrative contact).
- 5.1.3 The name, postal address, e-mail address, voice telephone number, and (where available) fax number of the technical contact for the domain name.
- 5.1.4 The name, postal address, e-mail address, voice telephone number, and (where available) fax number of the billing contact for the domain name.
- 5.1.5 The names of the primary name server and secondary name server(s) for the domain name;
- 5.1.6 Any other information that may be required from specific registries.

(Registration Information)

5.2 You are required to provide us with accurate Registration Information, and update the Registration Information when it becomes inaccurate. We may ask you from time-to-time to verify the accuracy of the Registration Information. You are required to respond to our request within 15 calendar days. Your failure to respond, or provide us with accurate or updated Registration Information, is a material breach of this TOS. This material breach is a basis for the cancellation of your domain name. If your domain name is cancelled, you may lose any registration rights you previously held.

5.3 You are required to provide us with your own full contact information, and for providing and updating accurate technical and administrative contact information, to allow us and others to resolve any problems that arise in connection with the domain name. You are liable for any harm caused by the wrongful use of the domain name, even if you have licensed its use to another party.

5.4 You agree that a domain name you register through us may be suspended, cancelled or transferred if required by ICANN, us, a court, or the third party we use to register your domain name, if necessary to correct a mistake or as applicable during or following the resolution of a dispute regarding the domain name.

5.5 The person, or entity, listed as the owner (as set out in paragraph 5.1.1 above) in our records will be considered by us as having full right, title and authority in the Domain Name.

6. How we will use the Registration Information

6.1 We will make the Registration Information that you provide, or that we otherwise maintain, available to ICANN, the third party we use to register your domain name, and to such other parties as ICANN or applicable laws may require or permit. You further agree that we may make publicly available, or directly available to third party vendors, some, or all, of the Registration Information you provide, for purposes of inspection (such as through our WHOIS service) or for targeted marketing and other purposes as required or permitted by ICANN and applicable laws. You are required to provide the Registration Information to us. We represent that unless otherwise stated in our TOS or Privacy Policy, the Registration Information will only be used as set out in this paragraph.

6.2 You agree that we make use the Registration Information in this manner. If you are presenting Misk with a Registration Application on behalf of a third-party you represent that you have provided the third party with the notices set out in this section, and have obtained their consent for the use of the Registration Information in the ways set out here. You may access the Registration Information through our control panel service, or similar service, made available at our web site. Some of the Registration Information may contain data about any identified or identifiable natural person (Personal Data). This Personal Data will be disclosed as set out in this TOS and in our Privacy Policy. However, we agree that we will take reasonable precautions to protect the Personal Data from loss, misuse, unauthorized access or disclosure, alteration, or destruction.

7. Disputes

7.1 You agree to be bound by our domain name dispute policy. In addition, should a dispute arise concerning or arising from the use of a domain name you have registered through us, you agree to submit to the jurisdictions of the courts where you are domiciled, and where the registrar is located. The registrar is located in Fishkill, New York. You agree that this consent to jurisdiction is without prejudice to other potentially applicable jurisdictions.

7.2 For Products provided pursuant to Sections B and C, and unless otherwise provided in Section C below, you agree to submit to the jurisdictions of the courts where you are domiciled, and where we are located. We are located in Fishkill, New York. You agree that this consent to jurisdiction is without prejudice to other potentially applicable jurisdictions.

8. Representations, Warranties and Indemnification

8.1 In addition to, and not in lieu of, all other representations and warranties set out in this TOS, and the Agreements, you represent, to the best of your knowledge and belief that neither the registration of the domain name, nor the manner in which it is used, infringes the legal rights of any third party. You agree to indemnify us for any claims made against us based on this representation. We reserve the right to deny, lock, suspend, cancel or transfer any domain name that you attempt to register, or have already registered, in our sole and exclusive discretion, if we believe that doing so will protect the domain name registry, to comply with any applicable laws or regulations, or to avoid liability to Misk. We may freeze domain names during a dispute brought pursuant to the UDRP or the relevant domain name dispute provision set out in Section C.

8.2 You agree to hold us, any third party registry used by us, and all of our directors, officers, employees and agents harmless from and against any and all claims, damages, liabilities, costs and expenses (which includes, but is not limited to reasonable legal fees and expenses) which arise out of or are related to the domain name registration.

4.1 Registrations in the .biz top level domain must be used or intended to be used primarily for bona fide business or commercial purposes. For purposes of the .biz registration restrictions, "bona fide business or commercial use" shall mean the bona fide use or bona fide intent to use the domain name or any content, software, materials, graphics or other information thereon, to permit Internet users to access one or more host computers through the DNS:

4.1.1 To exchange goods, services, or property of any kind;

4.3 When you submit a Registration Application for a .biz top level domain, you certify, to the best of your knowledge:

4.3.1 The registered domain name will be used primarily for bona fide business or commercial purposes and not (i) exclusively for personal use; or (ii) solely for the purpose of (1) selling, trading or leasing the domain name for compensation, or (2) the unsolicited offering to sell, trade or lease the domain name for compensation;

4.4.1 You agree to be bound by the ICANN Uniform Dispute Resolution Policy (UDRP). The UDRP is located here:
<http://www.icann.org/dndr/udrp/policy.htm>

4.4.2 The Restrictions Dispute Resolution Criteria and Rules (RDRP). The RDRP is located here:
<http://www.icann.org/tlds/agreements/biz/registry-agmt-appm-27apr01.htm>

4.4.3 The UDRP sets forth the terms and conditions in connection with a dispute between you and any party other than Neulevel, Inc (the "Registry Operator") or us over the registration and use of an Internet domain name registered by you.

4.4.4 The RDRP sets forth the terms under which any allegation that a domain name is not used primarily for business or commercial purposes shall be enforced on a case-by-case, fact specific basis by an independent ICANN-accredited dispute provider. None of the violations of the restrictions set out in the RDRP will be enforced directly by or through the Registry Operator. The Registry Operator will not review, monitor, or otherwise verify that any particular domain name is being used primarily for business or commercial purposes or that a domain name is being used in compliance with the UDRP processes.

4.5 You agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Registry Operator, and its directors, officers, employees and agents from and against any and all claims, damages, liabilities, costs and expenses, including reasonable legal fees and expenses, arising out of or relating to your domain name registration. This indemnification obligation shall survive the termination or expiration of this TOS.

You further agree that you will not receive a refund of any fees paid to us for violations of this TOS specifically applicable to the .us tld. Included within this "no refund" policy, is your refusal to verify the data you've provided to us in your Registration Agreement or that is required for us to display in a "who-is" field.

You further agree that you have disclosed to your customers in writing how the data they supply to you will be disclosed, and that such a use is consistent with the data use policy set out in this TOS and this subsection.

Resolution Policy

2. This policy has been adopted by all ICANN-accredited registrars. It has also been adopted by certain managers of country-code top-level domains (e.g., .nu, .tv, .ws).

3. The policy is between the registrar (or other registration authority in the case of a country-code top-level domain) and its customer (the domain-name holder or registrant). Thus, the policy uses "we" and "our" to refer to the registrar and it uses "you" and "your" to refer to the domain-name holder.

Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy

(As Approved by ICANN on October 24, 1999)

1. Purpose. This Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (the "Policy") has been adopted by the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN"), is incorporated by reference into your Registration Agreement, and sets forth the terms and conditions in connection with a dispute between you and any party other than us (the registrar) over the registration and use of an Internet domain name registered by you. Proceedings under Paragraph 4 of this Policy will be conducted according to the Rules for Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (the "Rules of Procedure"), which are available at <http://www.icann.org/en/dndr/udrp/uniform-rules.htm>, and the selected administrative-dispute-resolution service provider's supplemental rules.

2. Your Representations. By applying to register a domain name, or by asking us to maintain or renew a domain name registration, you hereby represent and warrant to us that (a) the statements that you made in your Registration Agreement are complete and accurate; (b) to your knowledge, the registration of the domain name will not infringe upon or otherwise violate the rights of any third party; (c) you are not registering the domain name for an unlawful purpose; and (d) you will not knowingly use the domain name in violation of any applicable laws or regulations. It is your responsibility to determine whether your

4. Mandatory Administrative Proceeding.

Policy Document

This Paragraph sets forth the type of disputes for which you are required to submit to a mandatory administrative proceeding. These proceedings will be conducted before one of the administrative-dispute-resolution service providers listed at www.icann.org/en/dndr/udrp/approved-providers.htm (each, a "Provider").

Providers

Provider Approval Process

a. Applicable Disputes. You are required to submit to a mandatory administrative proceeding in the event that a third party (a "complainant") asserts to the applicable Provider, in compliance with the Rules of Procedure, that

(ii) you have no rights or legitimate interests in respect of the domain name; and

(iii) your domain name has been registered and is being used in bad faith.

In the administrative proceeding, the complainant must prove that each of these three elements are present.

b. Evidence of Registration and Use in Bad Faith. For the purposes of Paragraph 4(a)(iii), the following circumstances, in particular but without limitation, if found by the Panel to be present, shall be evidence of the registration and use of a domain name in bad faith:

(i) circumstances indicating that you have registered or you have acquired the domain name primarily for the purpose of selling, renting, or otherwise transferring the domain name registration to the complainant who is the owner of the trademark or service mark or to a competitor of that complainant, for valuable consideration in excess of your documented out-of-pocket costs directly related to the domain name; or

(ii) you have registered the domain name in order to prevent the owner of the trademark or service mark from reflecting the mark in a corresponding domain name, provided that you have engaged in a pattern of such conduct; or

(iii) you have registered the domain name primarily for the purpose of disrupting the business of a competitor; or

(iv) by using the domain name, you have intentionally attempted to attract, for commercial gain, Internet users to your web site or other on-line location, by creating a likelihood of confusion with the complainant's mark as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of your web site or location or of a product or service on your web site or location.

c. How to Demonstrate Your Rights to and Legitimate Interests in the Domain Name in Responding to a Complaint. When you receive a complaint, you should refer to Paragraph 5 of the Rules of Procedure in determining how your response should be prepared. Any of the following circumstances, in particular but without limitation, if found by the Panel to be proved based on its evaluation of all evidence presented, shall demonstrate your rights or legitimate interests to the domain name for purposes of Paragraph 4(a)(ii):

(i) before any notice to you of the dispute, your use of, or demonstrable preparations to use, the domain name or a name corresponding to the domain name in connection with a bona fide offering of goods or services; or

(ii) you (as an individual, business, or other organization) have been commonly known by the domain name, even if you have acquired no trademark or service mark rights; or

(iii) you are making a legitimate noncommercial or fair use of the domain name, without intent for commercial gain to misleadingly divert consumers or to tarnish the trademark or service mark at issue.

d. Selection of Provider. The complainant shall select the Provider from among those approved by ICANN by submitting the complaint to that Provider. The selected Provider will administer the proceeding, except in cases of consolidation as described in Paragraph 4(f).

e. Initiation of Proceeding and Process and Appointment of Administrative Panel. The Rules of Procedure state the process for initiating and conducting a proceeding and for appointing the panel that will decide the dispute (the "Administrative Panel").

f. Consolidation. In the event of multiple disputes between you and a complainant, either you or the complainant may petition to consolidate the disputes before a single Administrative Panel. This petition shall be made to the first Administrative Panel appointed to hear a pending dispute between the parties. This Administrative Panel may consolidate before it any or all such disputes in its sole discretion, provided that the disputes being consolidated are governed by this Policy or a later version of this Policy adopted by ICANN.

g. Fees. All fees charged by a Provider in connection with any dispute before an Administrative Panel pursuant to this Policy shall be paid by the complainant, except in cases where you elect to expand the Administrative Panel from one to three panelists as provided in Paragraph 5(b)(iv) of the Rules of Procedure, in which case all fees will be split evenly by you and the complainant.

h. Our Involvement in Administrative Proceedings. We do not, and will not, participate in the administration or conduct of any proceeding before an Administrative Panel. In addition, we will not be liable as a result of any decisions rendered by the Administrative Panel.

i. Remedies. The remedies available to a complainant pursuant to any proceeding before an Administrative Panel shall be limited to requiring the cancellation of your domain name or the transfer of your domain name registration to the complainant.

j. Notification and Publication. The Provider shall notify us of any decision made by an Administrative Panel with respect to a domain name you have registered with us. All decisions under this Policy will be published in full over the Internet, except when an Administrative Panel determines in an exceptional case to redact portions of its decision.

k. Availability of Court Proceedings. The mandatory administrative proceeding requirements set forth in Paragraph 4 shall not prevent either you or the complainant from submitting the dispute to a court of competent jurisdiction for independent resolution before such mandatory administrative proceeding is commenced or after such proceeding is concluded. If an Administrative Panel decides that your domain name registration should be canceled or transferred, we will wait ten (10) business days (as observed in the location of our principal office) after we are informed by the applicable Provider of the Administrative Panel's decision before implementing that decision. We will then implement the decision unless we have received from you during that ten (10) business day period official documentation (such as a copy of a complaint, file-stamped by the clerk of the court) that you have commenced a lawsuit against the complainant in a jurisdiction to which the complainant has submitted under Paragraph 3(b)(xiii) of the Rules of Procedure. (In general, that jurisdiction is either the location of our principal office or of your address as shown in our Whois database. See Paragraphs 1 and 3(b)(xiii) of the Rules of Procedure for details.) If we receive such documentation within the ten (10) business day period, we will not implement the Administrative Panel's decision, and we will take no further action, until we receive (i) evidence satisfactory to us of a resolution between the parties; (ii) evidence satisfactory to us that your lawsuit has been dismissed or withdrawn; or (iii) a copy of an order from such court dismissing your lawsuit or ordering that you do not have the right to continue to use your domain name.

5. All Other Disputes and Litigation. All other disputes between you and any party other than us regarding your domain name registration that are not brought pursuant to the mandatory administrative proceeding provisions of Paragraph 4 shall be resolved between you and such other party through any court, arbitration or other proceeding that may be available.

6. Our Involvement in Disputes. We will not participate in any way in any dispute between you and any party other than us regarding the registration and use of your domain name. You shall not name us as a party or otherwise include us in any such proceeding. In the event that we are named as a party in any such proceeding, we reserve the right to raise any and all defenses deemed appropriate, and to take any other action necessary to defend ourselves.

7. Maintaining the Status Quo. We will not cancel, transfer, activate, deactivate, or otherwise change the status of any domain name registration under this Policy except as provided in Paragraph 3 above.

8. Transfers During a Dispute.

a. Transfers of a Domain Name to a New Holder. You may not transfer your domain name registration to another holder (i) during a pending administrative proceeding brought pursuant to Paragraph 4 or for a period of fifteen (15) business days (as observed in the location of our principal place of business) after such proceeding is concluded; or (ii) during a pending court proceeding or arbitration commenced regarding your domain name unless the party to whom the domain name registration is being transferred agrees, in writing, to be bound by the decision of the court or arbitrator. We reserve the right to cancel any transfer of a domain name registration to another holder that is made in violation of this subparagraph.

b. Changing Registrars. You may not transfer your domain name registration to another registrar during a pending administrative proceeding brought pursuant to Paragraph 4 or for a period of fifteen (15) business days (as observed in the location of our principal place of business) after such proceeding is concluded. You may transfer administration of your domain name registration to another registrar during a pending court action or arbitration, provided that the domain name you have registered with us shall continue to be subject to the proceedings commenced against you in accordance with the terms of this Policy. In the event that you transfer a domain name registration to us during the pendency of a court action or arbitration, such dispute shall remain subject to the domain name dispute policy of the registrar from which the domain name registration was transferred.

9. Policy Modifications. We reserve the right to modify this Policy at any time with the permission of ICANN. We will post our revised Policy at <URL> at least thirty (30) calendar days before it becomes effective. Unless this Policy has already been invoked by the submission of a complaint to a Provider, in which event the version of the Policy in effect at the time it was invoked will apply to you until the dispute is over, all such changes will be binding upon you with respect to any domain name registration dispute, whether the dispute arose before, on or after the effective date of our change. In the event that you object to a change in this Policy, your sole remedy is to cancel your domain name registration with us, provided that you will not be entitled to a refund of any fees you paid to us. The revised Policy will apply to you until you cancel your domain name registration

Empire-Building 101 (perfect for eager Apprentices)

By Christopher Hefe on March 9, 2004

Format: Mass Market Paperback

"Trump, who believes that excess can be a virtue, is as American as Manhattan's skyline," wrote George Will in the 1980's. Regardless of whether you think Donald Trump as a symbol of American success, or you think he's an annoying, chest-pounding egomaniac with bad hair, this book will show you what it took for him to build up his empire. The book shows Trump doing what he does best -- boldly making big deals -- during the "greed is good" decade of the 1980's. I found it interesting to see how much of his current empire he had built up before his 40th birthday, and to understand how he pulled off various deals.

The majority of the book is a swashbuckling, detailed history of his biggest projects. He talks about all the details, from negotiating with landholders, arguing about zoning with city officials, lining up contractors, interviewing architects, dealing with partners in various projects, negotiating with banks to line up financing, and the like.

Trump also devotes a couple chapters to his background. He was the son of a successful developer of rent-controlled & low-income housing in Queens and Brooklyn, NY. He was a mischievous, aggressive kid (he once punched a teacher), and was sent military school during his high-school years. He started college at Fordham in the Bronx, NY, to be close to home, but then then transferred to the Wharton Business School (at the University of Pennsylvania) because he liked its entrepreneurial emphasis. Shortly after college, he worked with his father to buy a troubled apartment complex in Cincinnati, which he fixed it up and sold for a multi-million dollar profit. Read more >

A book about his deals

By Jeffrey Leeper on June 7, 2002

Format: Hardcover

This book is not a how-to book for deal making or negotiation. This book is more autobiographical. Each chapter covers a different deal, which were mostly in the 1980s. To learn from this will require some reading between the lines and some extrapolation.

With the exception of the first couple chapters, which talk about his early years, each chapter goes into some detail about a different deal, like the USFL and Trump Plaza. Trump talks about some negotiations, licensing, and construction. Reading about the steps behind each deal has some benefit if you are patient and read carefully.

Unfortunately, you need to understand the time, New York/New Jersey, and Trump to get this information. Since the information is from the 80s, it is a bit dated. Also, if you are not familiar with

New York or New Jersey, many of his references (which are oftentimes just the streets involved) will mean nothing to you. Trump also does a lot of name-dropping. If you are not from the area, then most of the names will mean nothing (with the exception of some of the USFL players he mentions). I would rate this book higher if it wasn't so dated. If you are familiar with the area and time covered in the book, then this can be helpful.

Excellent book by "the Donald"

By A Customer on April 24, 2000

Format: Hardcover

This is a must read for anyone in the real estate industry or those intending to enter the industry. Donald Trump tells how he did it - about himself, his deals, his money, the people he dealt with, his women... He tells you how the real estate industry really works and about the city he loves - New York. The stories of his deal-making strategies are absolutely captivating. I also recommend reading The Art of the Comeback.

Trump: The Storyteller

By A Customer on April 1, 2004

Format: Mass Market Paperback

This book was recommended to me at the start of the inaugural season of "The Apprentice" -- Trump's reality TV Show. "It's one of the most inspirational business books I've ever read," he said. Personally, I found it more entertaining than inspirational. It is a quick read, offering glimpses into The Donald's life in the 80's. These tales included some of his most successful real estate deals told in the first person from Donald's (somewhat biased) point-of-view. I kept wishing there was an alternate account of some of these tales to get more of a balanced view. And, after finishing the book, I also found myself longing for a similarly-executed book detailing his successes (and failures) in the 90's. But despite some of its biases and lack of business or even "deal-making" tips (as its title might suggest), I think it would make a terrific gift for fans of Donald Trump and "The Apprentice" as well as for the entrepreneurially-minded. And I would strongly recommend it -- just not as part of a business course curriculum!

The Art of the Deal -- Book Summary

By Justin Belkin on August 6, 2004

Format: Mass Market Paperback

Donald Trump has become arguably the world's best-known real-estate icon. He has undoubtedly worked hard for the honor. Trump routinely wakes up at 6AM, at which time he reads the morning papers before arriving to work by 9AM. He'll make anywhere from 50 to 100 phone calls daily, and will hold a dozen or so impromptu 15-minute meetings throughout the day. But Trump's work ethic is only part of the reason why he has come to define the quintessential real estate mogul.

Donald Trump provides for our benefit his eleven Trump Cards of success. They include thinking big, protecting the downside, maximizing options, knowing your market, using leverage, enhancing your location, getting the word out through a public relations/marketing campaign, fighting back, delivering the goods, controlling costs, and having fun. Yet even these Trump Cards fail to fully illuminate what it is that makes Trump so successful.

A great deal of Trump's success can be traced back to his father who built and sold homes throughout New York City, most prominently in Jamaica Estates. Donald would learn on the job from a young age about managing costs and putting together a working symphony of various real estate professionals. After transferring from Fordham University to the University of Pennsylvania to complete his undergraduate degree in business administration, Donald and his father bought Swifton Village in 1968, a 1200-unit FHA apartment complex in Cincinnati, Ohio. While the scope of a 1200-unit apartment complex may seem unfathomable to many, for Donald it was just the beginning. These formative years convinced Trump to look beyond NYC and take the next progressive step, which for him was to develop commercial real estate in Manhattan and later casinos in Atlantic City.

Trump's story begins when many real estate moguls went belly-up in what he calls the Great Depression of 1990. Trump reveals how he renegotiated millions of dollars in bank loans and survived the recession, paving the way for a resurgence, during which he built the most successful casino operation in Atlantic City, broke ground on one of the biggest and most lucrative development projects ever undertaken in New York City, and outsmarted one of South America's richest men for rights to the Miss Universe pageant.

He's the "MAN" !

By W. P. Danitz on January 6, 2000

Format: Hardcover

Everyone either loves or hates Donald Trump! He is what we all want to be. He says and does what we all want to say and do. A very successful businessman is probably someone that many of us would not like. In order to be able to do what they do, they have to have a large dose of ego and self confidence. They must be assertive. We the little people spend thousands reading inspirational books, attending seminars, and all the rest of that stuff to be successful, searching for that millionaire mentality, yet we condemn it when we find someone who really has it! I enjoyed the book immensely. Yes there was a lot of DONALD, but so what? Read it, and learn!

Another 200+ pages of chest pounding from The Donald

By A Customer on March 22, 1998

Format: Hardcover

I have long been a fan of Donald Trump. I have read every book available on him, including this newest one. This book gives a little insight to his inner workings, and some of his deals. The biggest disappointment for me is that Donald will not share any of his vast financial acumen with us. He is very gifted in the arena of finance, and I wish that he would impart some of that knowledge on us. Perhaps he feels like this would give away some of his business advantage, or maybe he just likes chest pounding better than education. In contrast, Warren Buffet spends lots of time telling us the exact formulas and philosophies that he has used to become a billionaire from the stock market. Donald Trump has a great gift, and I wish he would write one more book to share even a portion of that with us.

Candid and Complex Self-Portrait of a Real Estate Titan

By Stuart Ellison on June 10, 2006

Format: Hardcover

In characteristic blunt style, Donald Trump describes how he made his astounding financial comeback during the severe downturn in the early-1990s real estate market. In a few short years, Trump went from being three-quarters of a billion dollars in debt to having a net worth of over $2 billion. This fast-reading book provides a fascinating look at this highly controversial, intelligent, and complex man.

Much of the book is full of name-dropping and self-pats on the back, but, hey, "The Donald" has a lot to brag about. Trump describes how he bought and improved many of New York's greatest landmarks, such as the Empire State Building, Wollman Skating Rink, and 40 Wall Street.

Trump is coarse and sensitive; vicious toward betrayers and generous to loyalists; egotistical and self-critical. He uses four-letter words to describe his enemies, yet is magnanimous enough to make peace with rival Merv Griffin. He describes his nasty divorce with Ivana, but has mostly good things to say about her. Perhaps The Donald's most candid admission is that the breakup of his marriage to Marla was probably his fault.

This book isn't for everyone. Trump, the quintessential builder, finds "a crane on every block" a thing of beauty. He also seems to find humor in Mike Tyson's biting of Evander Holyfield's ear during that infamous heavyweight title fight.

Trump is understandably reticent about his daily life during the tough times of the early '90s, but that would have been more interesting material than the mundane schedule he describes.

Yet, overall, The Art of the Comeback is a straight-shooting autobiography providing insight into the mind of the greatest real estate titan of our time.

Throughout The American We Deserve, Donald Trump points out problems and offers sensible, practical solutions. To help him formulate his ideas into well-researched and workable policies, Donald Trump has secured the support and counsel of a group of domestic and foreign policy advisers, all with White House or senior policy experience.

In The American We Deserve, Donald Trump lays out his concerns and solutions, virtually a platform on the major political issues facing our country. But this is not a dry, public-policy book. This is Donald Trump taking on the issues in his no-nonsense, unvarnished manner, offering populist, provocative, and sometimes dramatic solutions that no other politician would dare to put forward.

Editorial Reviews

Amazon.com Review

Donald Trump doesn't pull any punches when he surveys the American political scene: Pat Buchanan's "totally lost it," Al Gore is "an able, underrated man who seems confused," and Bill Bradley is simply a "disaster." But the real estate tycoon has some ideas of his own about how the United States should be run, and he shares them with the potential electorate for the 2000 presidential race in The America We Deserve. There aren't too many surprises here: Trump lambastes the government bureaucracy that's made a mess of the civic infrastructure, particularly the public school systems; he supports creating opportunities for business developers (both large and small); and he's tougher than tough on crime. He's also prepared to come down hard on America's enemies abroad, such as China, North Korea, and Cuba. Among the more interesting aspects of his platform is his desire to do away completely with soft money in campaign financing and allow unlimited personal contributions--along with full disclosure of political contributions, updated daily on the Internet.

The America We Deserve is an effective combination of Trump's straight-shooting personality and policy-wonk data points. As another American presidential campaign heats up, Trump raises issues that will force voters to give serious consideration to what they want in a candidate. --Ron Hogan

From Library Journal

For the first time, the mogul, best-selling author (The Art of the Deal), publicity hound, and possible presidential candidate will narrate his own work.

A Fun and Thought-Provoking Read in Classic Trump Style

By Anthony L. Mascia on January 5, 2000

Format: Hardcover Verified Purchase

Whether you love or hate Donald Trump, this book is light-years ahead of what current Presidential hopefuls are passing off as their "vision". This book keeps celebrity name-dropping to a minimum (a weakness of other Trump books), and has specific, well-thought and referenced ideas on economics, trade, foreign policy, education, and crime. The tone and style of the book is in in the Trump mode: refreshingly brash and straightforward.

Forget the "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous" public persona, get the book, and enjoy.

From Publishers Weekly

With a central role in NBC's The Apprentice, Trump's star is soaring. In his fifth book (after The Art of the Deal, he offers a cursory glance behind the scenes of the hit reality show, but the bulk of the text consists of business advice ("Be Tenacious"; "Play Golf"; "Be Optimistic, but Always Be Prepared for the Worst") with illustrative details culled from his real estate and media dealings. (The glimpses he presents of his transformation of 40 Wall Street hint at a story that might deserve a more serious book all its own.) There are some surprises; at times, the quintessential New Yorker sounds almost like a California New Ager as he recommends up to three hours of quiet reflection a day along with the writings of Carl Jung. But he's soon back in recognizable form, advising readers to "screw enemies back" and explaining why various people (including former governor Mario Cuomo and talk-show host Joy Behar) are dead to him. Trump appears comfortable with himself, and he even makes light of potentially touchy subjects, such as his hair: "My hair is one hundred percent mine. No animals have been harmed in the creation of my hairstyle." There are occasional missteps, like an imitation of the New York Post's iconic gossip column "Page Six," which reads more like an annual Trump Christmas letter. But Trump's books have done an effective job of capturing his grand personality in print, and this volume is no exception. B&w photos throughout.

His publisher should FIRE HIM for this piece of crap!

By Lynn B. on October 26, 2004

Format: Hardcover

I wanted to like this book, but I'm three-quarters of the way through it and I keep thowing it down in disgust. Most "chapters" are a mere page and a half long and the information contained therein are just extremely commonsense snippets with no real insight or depth. His section on real estate gives you gems like "get a home inspection", or "if you house isn't selling, lower the price". Uh...DOH! Every topic is covered too briefly to have any real merit or make it worthy of a second thought, much less a second read. So far the most interesting part of the book has been the two sections with color photos, though most are just pictures of his girlfriend scowling. (Isn't this chick like a model or something? Why is she making these screwy faces in all the pictures?)

Some of his advice on being successful in business includes not sleeping more than 4 hours a night and similar unpractical things.

My advice is save your money....if you are really curious about this book borrow it from a friend or the library. Don't let this book take up valuable real estate on your bookshelf!

Thank goodness this was just a library borrow!

By Consumer on January 3, 2006

Format: Audio CD

Shame on me for expecting more... I had already purchased two Trump books when they came out, "Art of the Deal" & "How to get Rich", and was well aware of how self (Trump's self!)-promoting and devoid of content they were. Just pick up any Trump book and this should be apparent by the typeface size (in order to fill the pages, the type is so big Stevie Wonder could read it!) Still most books in general have some vaule so, roaming the aisle at the library, I picked up this 5 disc "gem".

How bad and useless is this children's book of financial "wisdom"?

1.) If you removed the words "me", "I", "my", "mine" (and every other narcissistic variant of the first person pronoun), "Trump", "Apprentice" and "Mar-Lago" the runtime of this audiobook could be cut by an easy 25%.

Cut out the superfluous "information" about the tile at Trump's home and scores of other references that have absoultey nothing to do with you or success and you kill another 40% of time. What are you left with?

2.) A host of vague and contradicting generalities that are so broad or commonsense that they are frankly insulting. My pity to anyone who actually paid for this man's self-promoting diatribe of no real value.

3.) Then Trump wants to teach you about dieting and landscaping and...stop!!!! I can't take it. It's too hard to balance laughter and disgust!!

I borrowed this to listen to in the car, but the amount of noxious fumes and carbon dioxide spewed from the speakers actually made it impossible to listen to all the way through. I actually started carrying a caged canary in the car to warn me of the CO2 levels until I could get the oxygen masks that drop from the ceiling installed. Ugh! Read more »

An Awesome Trump Book!
By Ellen on December 27, 2006

Format: Hardcover

I listened to Trump at the Learning Annex Real Estate Expo in New York two months ago, and was a little dissappointed with his speech because he spent a lot of time bragging about how smart he was and very little time teaching us his secrets. He did give us ten tips but did not really elaborate on them. Therefore, when I first saw this book Trump 101, I didn't expect that I would like it. I thought it would be just another tool to show off his wealth and smartness, but I am glad I was wrong. This is a very concise yet powerful and inspirational book. It introduces and very well explains 33 secrets of his success, including passion, thinking big, setting high standards, living with excellence, working hard, doing a lot of preparation before going into a deal, being confident and thinking positively, etc. These are very practical advice so you can apply it in your real life instantly. To make the best of this book, you should not read it lightly. You really have to think deeply about your life and your business approach and digest the book thoroughly with your mind and heart. For anyone who is thinking of running a business, this is a great coach. I myself have been considering starting my own business lately and Trump has definitely pointed me into the right direction: To be successful, you have to do what you really love, not just what makes money. If you do what you love and do it well, money will follow. A lot of the time people are caught up in jobs or businesses just for the money itself. However, you will soon lose your passion and then likely the money too. Remember something very true that Donald Trump and Robert Kiyosaki both believe in, the biggest asset in your life is time, and don't waste it on work you don't love!

Like Having Coffee Every Day with Donald Trump
By Gary D. Collier on December 14, 2006

Format: Hardcover

This is not a deep book. But if you keep in mind that this is Trump 101 and not Trump 475, you may really like it. The book is intended to introduce Trump University, but it does not beat this into the ground. Instead, it's more like having coffee every day for a month with Donald Trump in which he talks to you about important principles for success.

Mostly, this book is about attitude. Thirty-three (33) short, easy-to-read chapters are as inviting and encouraging as they are interesting and entertaining. From "Don't waste your life on work you don't love," to "stay focused on what matters most or you could be expelled," Trump encourages positive, forward-thinking, informed, realistic, and focused energy. "Energy," he says, "is the key to accomplishment. Harness your energy and you will have the ability to achieve your goals." Above all he emphasizes (1) learning your area of interest "inside out" and (2) hard work. My personal favorite quote from the book is this:

"If you really want to succeed in business, you have to work at it every day. I do. The big time isn't for slackers. When you work at it, an amazing thing occurs: You accumulate an incredible body of knowledge in your area of expertise and develop the uncanny ability to make the right calls consistently. Getting to this level is an awesome achievement; it's the essence of success."

Highly autobiographical, this book comes across as informational, inspirational, and even warm. A large number of pictures of Trump buildings and personal shots punctuate the book. The book is a great place to start or even to come back to for success basics. Read more >

Finally
By D. Drews on December 1, 2006

Format: Hardcover

Finally, after releasing the God awful "How to Think Like a Billionaire", Trump hits his stride in "Trump 101". I'd say Trump 101 is the best since "The Art of the Deal", which was excellent.

This book is very good. Trump 101 crystalizes The Donald's advice. There is almost no filler in this book.

In a nutshell, what I learned from Trump 101 is that you need to have tremendous passion, drive and work ethic to really make it.

Amazon.com Review

Donald J. Trump is an icon: the very definition of the American success story. The star of The Apprentice and developer of some of the planet's most prestigious real estate, he's been on the bottom and risen to become one of the world's wealthiest men.

Bill Zanker started The Learning Annex with $5,000 and grew it into a $5 million a year company. That was before he met Donald Trump. Thirty months later, after Zanker learned to think BIG himself, The Learning Annex is generating over $100 million a year in sales--and still growing.

Together, they're living examples of how thinking BIG and knowing when to back up your opinions aggressively--regardless of what your critics or opponents might say--can help you maximize your personal and professional achievements. For the first time ever, you too can learn Trump's secrets to thinking BIG and kicking ass! Learn:

- Momentum: the Big Mo. How to get it and how to get it back.
- Revenge: how and when to get it (and why it's so sweet).
- "I love you, now sign this!" Why contracts in business and personal life are so important.
- Real-life stories from people who've applied the think BIG formula in their own lives.

These strategies are proven and attested to by those who've learned to think BIG from Donald Trump and found success in their own lives. Bill Zanker used Donald's strategies to grow the revenues of The Learning Annex twenty times in under three years. Both of them have been down and out, and know what it's like to feel the whole world's against you--and both have risen to dizzying heights of success by thinking BIG and kicking ass! It is an attitude that can be easily learned.

Questions for Donald Trump

Amazon.com: Was there ever a time when you didn't think big enough?

Trump: I don't think so. I always had big plans, even when I was very young. I would build skyscrapers with my building blocks.

Amazon.com: What was your first impression of your co-author Bill Zanker when you started doing business with the Learning Annex?

Trump: Bill Zanker had tremendous enthusiasm and focus, and he still does. I knew he'd succeed in a big way, and the success of The Learning Annex proves that I was right.

Amazon.com: What has becoming a television star on The Apprentice meant for your business?

Trump: My brand became more famous as I became more famous, and more opportunities presented themselves. I was already very well established, so I was well prepared, but things escalated and in a good way.

Amazon.com: There are stories everywhere that the real estate market is in trouble. How should an investor or an entrepreneur respond to the current market?

Trump: This is actually a very good time for entrepreneurs or investors. I would say to be positive and look for the opportunities, because the opportunities are there.

Amazon.com: You're critical of the "give me" attitude that you see in many young people today. What do you look for in a young person you are bringing into your business?

Trump: They have to be eager to learn and willing to work hard. I work hard and I expect the people around me to have a strong work ethic. I need people who can be part of a team and yet be able to think independently. That's one of the qualities I look for on The Apprentice--they have to be capable of both dimensions.

Amazon.com: Did you really make Lee Iacocca cry? [See Think Big and Kick Ass for more details.]

Trump: No, he made himself cry.

Fun Motivating Read!

By Alain B. Burrese on May 5, 2009

Format: Hardcover Verified Purchase

"Trump: Never Give Up - How I Turned My Biggest Challenges into Success" by Donald J. Trump with Meredith McIver is The Donald's newest book of success principles that he seems to be putting out regularly the last few years. This, like the others is an enjoyable read and contains simple, but important principles for success.

The book can easily be read in a couple of ways. You could read through the entire book quite quickly. It is not that long, and is an easy read. Alternatively, you could read one or two chapters at a time in little spurts for a daily dose of motivation. The 168 pages consist of 41 chapters. Each of these contains a lesson that Trump learned from experience. Some of the stories you have read before if you have read his previous books. Anyone familiar with Trump is familiar with the Wollman Rink story, but I did not mind reading about it again as Trump told how when you think you can complete a six-year project in six months, you probably can. Other examples in the book have been written about before as well, but they were put here with a new twist. Then there were stories in this book that have never been told before, so the reader gets even more insight into the phenomena that has become Donald Trump. I especially liked reading about his patriotism in the Defending the Flag chapter.

I enjoyed reading Trump's tales and how his persistence and never give up attitude helped him succeed. I agree with him when he states, "Losers give up." I also think this summary paragraph has a lot of meaning for anyone who would heed the advice and live it, " Strive for wholeness, believe in yourself, keep your momentum at full throttle, and be strong and tough in your resilience.

Unbelievable

By Mariusz Skonieczny on August 23, 2009

Format: Hardcover

It is hard to think that Trump, with all his successes, faces any problems, but in this book, he shows us how he dealt with some of the challenges in his life. I found it refreshing to read about his mistakes because I can relate to them, but on a different scale. It was fascinating to read about him being $1 billion dollar in the hole in the 1990s and making the biggest comeback in history, which even put him in the Guinness Book of World Records.

People struggle with being $20,000 in debt, but $1 billion is unbelievable. He said that this was his lowest moment in his entire life. But he did not give up. Instead he focused on the solution, not the problem. He also admits that this event taught him to be a better businessman and entrepreneur. I would hate to go through a similar experience. Instead, I will pay $20 and learn from his mistakes.

COURAGE AND CONFIDENCE

I have long respected Donald as one of the most successful self-help authors. The man is exceptional. Trump is a fascinating man with guts, grits and glory. A man who loves a big challenge, he's someone we can use as a precedent to learn from. Plus, reading and learning about Trump's billions of dollars of debt is far less expensive for us! Best of all, Trump shows a titanium backbone of bravery in sharing his difficult challenges for us to learn from. Donald is a great leader and excellent role model. Big and bold, its one of Trump's most gripping books for readers.

NEVER GIVE UP

As Winston Churchill once said: "Never, Never, NEVER GIVE UP! Like Churchill, Trump writes with vision on how failure is never permanent when you don't stop fighting to win. He states that after you've made an intelligent decision to move forward, don't let fear stop you. "Courage isn't the absence of fear, its the conquering of fear," he says. But sometimes its important to know when to cut your losses and move on to another success. The first-class book is 41 short Chapters, 168 Pages and 2 Appendixes of exciting material. Trump's charisma exemplifies Churchill in our modern times.

PREMIUM BOOK

TRUMP - "NEVER GIVE UP" is a premium book with gold blended into every sentence. BUY IT! You'll love the book. Its a quick, fun read with incredible insight and wisdom for wealth building. It may even transform your life.

Consistent Persistence Exemplified

By Dave Carpenter on January 18, 2008

Format: Hardcover Verified Purchase

Having read and enjoyed all of Trump's previous books, I knew that I was in for more Trump storytelling punctuated with lessons learned. I wasn't disappointed and you won't be unless you are one who will resent that the stories are about his personal triumphs.

Kudos to Trump's writer (Meredith McIver) who fashioned 41 vignettes into quick read stories all nicely illustrating the theme of persistence. And, did so in a way that has the feel of Trump telling you each of the stories in a one-on-one setting.

Be forewarned; this book is written in the new quick read style designed for an ADD world. Not a heavy tome, in the Bill Clinton style of writing, but an enjoyable quick read. Most importantly, the message of the importance of persistence resonates in a most effective way.

I debated, with myself, as to whether the book deserved 5 stars and decided that Trump deserves such for crafting a book that balances the thinking of the currently popular Law of Attraction authors with a mandate for consistent, persistent action as one of the keys to success. Readers looking for easy, quick success will not find it in this book. Trump has toiled long and hard to achieve his success and the essence of his advice is consistent with what has made him such a success.

Full, full disclosure: Having just last night watched The Donald and Gene Simmons go mano/mano in the boardroom on Celebrity Apprentice, I think Trump deserves this 5 star for being such a stand-up guy. Gene Simmons was 100% right, but so too was The Donald in firing the other superstar of his show. Neither Trump nor Simmons operate in a manner with which I am personally comfortable, but I do respect greatly their intellect, their stand-up style, and their success over an extended period.

From Publishers Weekly

Given Trump's larger than life—and polarizing—public persona, part of Skipp Sudduth's achievement as narrator is his creation of a buffer zone of sorts. Granted, the entrepreneur does deliver a zealous introduction, but as Sudduth takes over, it becomes possible to overlook the positive and negative caricatures of Trump the celebrity and focus on his tangible no-nonsense advice. While viewers of The Apprentice will certainly recognize The Donald 's bravado in the recurring litany of accomplishments related to the global Trump brand, Sudduth's presentation of the career and personal growth tips will resonate with listeners. Review

"(E)ntertaining and valuable account of how to play the Trump card... I (found) his stories valuable and entertaining. In particular, the chapter titles are snappy and motivational. Trump's advice is that we should never think our way is the only way. Perhaps his readers should keep that in mind." -The Irish Times "Donald's wisdom is priceless-it's the perfect book at the perfect time." -Robert Kiyosaki, New York Times bestselling author of Rich Brother Rich Sister" --The New York Times, The Irish Times --This text refers to an alternate Hardcover edition.

PJC Book Reviews

By Paul J. Christopher on December 29, 2009

Format: Hardcover

The book keeps form with Mr. Trumps value for brevity in that it is concise, only 198 pages, but offers his valuable insight on an informal education on business and life from a seasoned entrepreneur.

Trump places a quote atop each chapter by such individuals as Albert Einstein, Aristotle, Henry Ford, Napoleon, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Abraham Lincoln, Socrates, Henry David Thoreau, etc. Some of the author's suggestions that I found valuable include:

"Coming together is a beginning, keeping together is progress, working together is success. - Henry Ford" (11).

"...a good way to handle difficult and even tragic times - to find blessing in the midst of adversity" (14).

"Never think of learning as being a burden or studying as being boring. It may require some discipline, but it can be an adventure" (17).

"The more you learn, the more you realize what you don't know" (35).

"As Jack Dempsey said, "A champion is someone who gets up when he can't" (39).

"I view my work as an art form" (43).

"Fear defeats more people than any other one thing in the world" - Ralph Waldo Emerson (51).

"Business is no place for stream of consciousness babbling, no matter how colorful you might think you are being. Whatever you're doing, keep it short, fast, and direct. (61)

"People appreciate brevity in today's world" (63).

"Don't find fault, find a remedy" - Henry Ford" (65).

"We are all businessmen and women, whether you see it that way yet or not. If you like art and can't make money at it, you eventually realize that everything is a business, even your art...I see my business as an art and so I work at it passionately." (86).

"Men are born to succeed, not fail. - Henry David Thoreau" (101).

"You can better your best at any time" (121). Read more > following advice from Donald Trump? LOVE HIM. I have a lot of Donald's books, people that bash/hate him are just jealous of what he's done & what he has. Stop hating & start reading!

I was very dissapointed in this book only for the fact that it is a miniature book and not well disclosed to

Format: Hardcover Verified Purchase

Love him or hate him, Donald Trump on many fronts has been extremely successful. While some say it's just because he got a good head start from his father, the truth is, Trump would not be where he's at, and would not have succeeded as he's done without many contributing factors. One such factor is his optimistic, positive charged, enthusiastic big thinking. If you want to model success, modeling the way Trump thinks is not a bad place to start. In his book "Think Like A Champion" written with Meredith McIver and starting with a Foreword by Robert Kiyosaki, Trump shares with readers what he calls an informal education in business and life. I thoroughly enjoyed reading the fifty essays in this book, and if you liked any of Trump's previous books, I'm sure you will really like this one.

The essays are mostly two to four pages long, with many being right around two and a half pages. So they are very easy to read. You could read the entire book through quickly, or just pick an essay or two a day. First, I found the essays very positive and uplifting. I think it would be difficult to read this book and not feel a bit motivated to pursue great accomplishments upon reading The Donald's advice and examples. However, I think the book goes beyond a motivational "vanity" piece. The essays really do have substance, and some very practical and sound advice on a variety of topics.

I also like that each essay has a quote at the heading. Trump mentions that he likes quotes, and so do I. The essay titled "Have the Right Mindset for the Job" has a quote by Henry Ford at the heading, "Don't find fault. Find a remedy." I'm using that quote in a conflict resolution program I'm teaching next week.

In one of the essays, Trump mentions how he likes to get right to the point. Read more ›
